LAWLESS CAMPUSES FACE FUND CUTOFF

Taxpayers' Money Must Not Benefit Rioters

From coast to coast the lawless tyranny of mob rule has crashed upon the hallowed halls of learning once noted for their tranquil atmosphere. Administration buildings are taken over, officials abused, and students seeking an education are barred from classes.

The horde involved, composed of militants of every stripe—anarchists, black power racists, nihilists, junkies, beatniks, and other unwashed radicals who by their appearance and conduct deny that western civilization is surviving—are emboldened by the cowardice of college administrators unwilling to maintain order and civilized standards. Deans and other officials meekly submit to captivity in their offices or eviction. They meanwhile counsel "restraint" and "tolerance" to anyone urging the restitution of law and order.

Chief among the disruptive leadership is the wildly radical SDS. Its leadership, according to J. Edgar Hoover, is saturated with Communists, and it is importing revolutionaries to campuses across the country. No wonder Gus Hall boasts: "The SDS is a group we have got going for us." No wonder the SDS is making opposition to the "Safeguard" ABM missile system its major project.

Outstanding among the hypocrisies of the unwashed revolutionaries is their demand for the abolition of voluntary ROTC programs while ideologically claiming to support a volunteer army. When college heads kowtow to these demands they imperil national defense by limiting the critical supply of military leadership.

One means of compelling weak-kneed college administrations to maintain order is to put them on notice that taxpayers will no longer subsidize them financially as they fiddle while Alma Mater burns.

Federal funds to disrupted campuses must be cut off immediately when disorder starts, and remain cut off until order is restored and proper measures are taken to prevent further anarchy.

These sensible provisions are contained in H.R. 10074, introduced by Congressman William Harsha (R-Ohio). Also provided for is the termination of federal funds to any teacher, instructor or lecturer guilty of law violation in connection with campus disorders. Additionally, the bill calls for the assurance of prosecution of those in violation of the law in such disorders before aid is resumed.

Patriots must inform the Congress that they will not accept the continued squandering of their hard-earned tax dollars to finance campus revolution, and that H.R. 10074 has their full support.

WHAT YOU CAN DO:

- Write today to your congressman and two senators.
- Tell them of your support for H.R. 10074.
- Remind them that you work hard for the taxes you pay—and that when federally funded education grinds to a halt, your taxes are going down the drain.
- Let them know that you appreciate the value of education—and that you believe the colleges should be engaged in education rather than revolution.
- Advise them that you know that there are subversive forces active in destroying our institutions of higher learning, and that you feel that Congress should investigate them.
- Urge friends, neighbors and relatives to write.
- Write letters to the editors of your local newspapers and use call-in radio programs to inform your fellow citizens of the Harsha Bill and its provisions. Remember,
